Holzrausch creates interior designs for private and public spaces with a high level of skill and insight. A perfect example is Casa Morelli, originally built in the 15th century, and just newly renovated by Holzrausch, in conjunction with a team of local craftsmen. Casa Morelli is a holzrausch hideaway and can be rented through the platform Urlaubsarchitektur.

Manetti from Ferrone, Italy, handcrafted special Cotto Fiorentino tiles in anthracite clay. The Austrian artist, Klaus Lichtenegger, designed and produced the large dining room table, chairs and terrace furniture. Unique lighting was achieved with a team from Munich, designer *OHA** and manufacturer Winhart. Sebastian Hepp, a Munich blacksmith, supplied the door and window fittings. Holzrausch made the remaining pieces. They speak for themselves in form, functionality and workmanship. Casa Morelli is a showcase for the holistic approach to design and attention to detail that Holzrausch is known for. The minimalism and space between indoors and outdoors give the house a rural rhythm, the epitome of the Italian lifestyle.
